BRAKEMAN KILLED NEAR FALLS CHURCH

Coupling Pin Is Driven Through Body of Alexandria Railroad Employe.

ALEXANDRIA, June 19.-Caught between the engine and cars of a Wash ngton and Old Dominion - railway reight train early this morning, Frank Frederick Schweickert, of this city, a brakeman, received injuries that resulted in his death at the Alexandria Hospital. A portion of the coupler was driven through Schweicketr's body. The accident occurred near Falls Church on the Bluemont division, the train being en route to this city. None of the trainmen witnessed the accident, nor is it known how it occurred.

Schweickert was twenty-four years old and unmarried. He was a member of the Alexandria Light Infantry.

Additional evidence will be heard in police court this evening in the investi-gation of the assault on A. G. Griffith, which took place on Wednesday Light at the corner of King and Columbus streets. The case was commenced this morning, but owing to the absence of several witnesses and the conflicting evidence of others, the case was post-

So numerous have been the requests of members of the Virginia Press Association, which convenes here Tuesday, for hotel reservations, that J. T. Preston, secretary of the chamber of commerce, chairman of the hotel computitee, has called on citizens for rooms accommodate the visitors. The local committee will hold a meeting tonight in the mayor's office, when the final details of the program will be arranged.

The Methodist Protestant Sunday school will hold its annual picnic at the Collingwood Club grounds next Tuesday.

Mrs. Nellie Heppert, supreme finance keeper of the Order of Lady Macabess, paid an official visit to the Alexandria Hive this afternoon and witnessed the conferring of the degree of the order upon a class of ten candidates.

The Real Estate and Investment Cor-poration has sold to J. W. Ferrell and others five building lots in the square bounded by Payne, Fayette, Princess and Orinoco streets. J. W. Burton has sold to the Atlantic Coast Realty Com-pany one-fourth interest in the fore-soing lots.

A special meeting of the Original Gar-

The return of cool days has re-tarded the activity of the deadly typhoid fly. In fact, these delightful days are the ones on, which wholesale slaughter of the diseasecarrying pests should be made. At this time, when the germ-carriers are inactive, it is not difficult to reach them, and once they are reached it is the duty of every citizen, who loves health and happiness, to strike to kill.

In the warfare against the typhoid fly there are two general lines of attack, based on the habits of the insect. In the first place advantage should be taken of their feeding and drinking habits in the use of such fluids as sour milk, formalin and milk, and beer and sugar bait for

HELEN MORTON WED TO ROGER BAILEY

Secondly, a knowledge of the egg-Secondly, a knowledge of the egg-laying habits of the female fly should lead to the use of covered fly-tight receptacies for garbage and other fermenting materials, in which files breed rapidly. Entomologists say that 1,200 typhoid files is the extent of the hatch on a single pound of refuse. Clean homes, clean yards, well-kept stables, and fly-tight garbage cans are necessary to exterminate the fly. Marriage Follows Rumors Elopement at Time of Her Recent Disappearance.

cans are necessary to exterminate the fly.

The number of flies in Washington this summer is to be determined by the effectiveness of people in killing the pests. The female fly is said to multiply one million fold. This emphasizes the necessity of killing the female fly above everything else.

To gain the upper hand in the struggle against the fly, all Washington must mobilize on the side of the District Health Officers and KILL THE FLY NOW. A chorus of "I told you so's" went up from Washington society folk today. when they got the news that Miss Helen forton, Chicago helress and niece of Navy in the Roosevelt Cabinet, was opinion of those who knew the young quietly married Tuesday at Geneva woman, that she had forgotten her Falls, Ill., to Roger Bailey, the Virginia Eastern love affair. After a three-day search, in which the police of a dozen cities participated, the young woman was located by a correspondent of The Washington Times at the place of N. Frank Neer, near the Hailey farm at Delapiane. Then followed a parley between the young woman and her parents, which finally resulted in her return to her home, which she had left under the pretense of going to visit Miss Prudence Durand a friend living at Long Branch, N. J. It was only after telegraphing Miss Durand and learning that she was not ill, as Miss Morton had declared, that the parents of the missing young woman hit on the theory that she had eloped with Bailey.
